

TRAINING

Technical Benchmarking

Understanding the needs of the Trainee

Detailed analysis of your team's strengths and developmental opportunities directly focuses training materials to promote targeted personal growth.

manroland's technical benchmarking program identifies your press operator's technical comprehension of 10 key areas related to the lithographic print manufacturing process. The test is conveniently completed online and takes about two hours to complete.

How it works

Detailed reports outline each participant's knowledge within the 10 focus areas. Analysis of the results will provide you with clear visibility of your operator's training opportunities, enhancing your ability to include the most appropriate training to their development strategy.

Through regular testing, results can be used to measure the personal growth of trainees over a period of time. You can evaluate an individual's growth and the return of your training investment, against the overall performance of your pressroom. The reports also show your company's overall result compared to the current industry standard, allowing you to benchmark yourself against other printers.

Technical benchmarking will complement your company's training programs by adding value to your development strategy and enhancing the personal growth of your team. ■■

Focus Areas

- Press system orientation
- Press system components and functionality
- Inking system
- Dampening system
- Folder and ribbon deck
- Lithographic printing process
- Printing consumables
- Print production process
- Quality control
- Preventive maintenance

Benefits

- Detailed reports provide increased visibility of training opportunities
- Target training content towards individuals specific needs
- Provides ongoing measurement of personal development
- Benchmark yourself against current industry standards
- Test conveniently completed online

©manroland Inc. - Technical Benchmarking - Updated 06/2009 - printed in the USA

manroland Inc.
800 East Oak Hill Drive
Westmont, IL 60559
USA
Phone (800) 533-7561
Fax (630) 920-3999
www.manroland.us
psweb@manroland.us manroland