Block Service Hours

Manage the life cycle costs of your press

Block Service Hours can assist printers in controlling the costs involved with press maintenance and repairs.

The most comprehensive service support available to printers today is made more economical through Block Service Hours. The most well-built equipment requires adjustments and repairs from time to time to maintain the superior print quality and productivity.

How it works

Block Service Hours are pre-purchased segments of service labor which are used to cover the labor costs incurred for press service or training at a discounted rate. manroland offers three levels of Block Service Hours: 150, 250, and 350 hours per block. Travel and lodging expense is invoiced at the prevailing rate, along with expenses for tolls and mileage. Overtime worked by a technician under a Block Service Hours plan will be charged to the plan as 1.5 to 2 hours per hour worked, depending on the time the work was completed.

Retained value

The value of the hours which are pre-purchased through a Block Service Hours plan is never lost. If hours remain unused at the end of the 12 month agreement, they will be converted to a credit and applied to the account, to be used for parts or service. Remaining hours may also be applied to the purchase of a new Block Service Hours contract. ■■

Block Service Hours can be used to cover the labor costs of services provided by manroland, including mechanical technicians, electrical technicians, and printing trainers.
